3. Polygraph Programs May Expand

The Office is hopeful that in the not too distant future, more industrial polygraph cases will be available as previously reluctant companies may yet agree to the program. Mr. Gambino reported on other possible future needs for the polygraph which have prompted active consideration of a polygraph correspondent program similar to the investigative correspondent program. 4. Flexitime

Various forms of flexible working hours are being studied with renewed interest due to the energy shortages. Mr. Wortman has established a committee to study alternative systems. Mr. Gambino has requested a SMAG study on the views of OS employees regarding this issue; a survey will be out soon. (U)

5. FOIA Finding Fewer Fans

Mr. Carlucci's position that the Freedom of Information Act has been not only a great burden on resources but a proven security problem as well, is finding more and more support both within and outside of the Intelligence Community. (U)

6. Bureau CI Course Openings

In a recent letter to Mr. Gambino, FBI Director Webster agreed to permit the Office of Security to send two employees per year to the FBI Counterintelligence course. (U)

7. EOD Crunch

In an attempt to fill the Agency's authorized Table of Organization, the Office of Personnel has asked for help in entering on duty as many people as possible before the end of the fiscal year. In order to complete applicant cases in a more timely manner, cutbacks have already been made in the Reinvestigation Polygraph Program and may soon have to be made in RIP field investigations. (U)

8. Kudos

Mr. Gambino commended the fine job done by all of those who helped prepare the Office of Security display for DDA Career Awareness Day. (U)
